Positive change starts when we break the hold of party politicians who toe the party line rather than the needs of the community ...

Increase Prahran's livability by regulating developers, we all deserve a say in what is being built in our community.

Crime in Prahran is up 12%, it's time for real solutions and not more of what isn't working. We all deserve to feel safe both within our homes and in our communities.

Address the issue of inequality at a community level. It is inequality that drives violence against women and it is inequality that is punishing young people though HECS debt and high barriers to entry into the housing market.
